THE NEW ORLEANS PLEASURE

We learn that so wide and deep are the crevasses above, and so great the volume of water flowing through them that, as in the case of the Chin and Robertson crevasses, there is no possibility of closing them till the subsidence of the waters. In the meantime the overwhelming floods will pass over the garden of Louisiana, and, besides the great cotton and sugar growing parishes of West Baton Rouge, Iberville, Lafourche, and Terrebonne, many others will be likely to be overwhelmed. Some time ago we were informed that all the bayous were full from the Chin and Robertson crevasses even down to the lower Atchafalaya, and that many people were driven miserably from their homes. Still greater numbers will now have to seek refuge among their fortunate neighbors; their all lost, even to the work of their hands during the summer, and we doubt not, being Louisianians, that they will be hospitably received.

SANTA ANNA IN THE COUNTRY.—General Santa Anna, the ex-President of Mexico, arrived in New York on Saturday, and proceeded at once to Elizabethport, where he is the guest of an old friend named Biez, a wealthy merchant of New York, who has a fine residence at that point. He is accompanied by a large and elegantly attired personal staff. Santa Anna is sixty-six years old, tall and quite erect; giving few evidences of the weakness of age, and hardly allowing the casual observer to know that he wears a cork leg. The object of his visit is a subject of much guess-work among political gossipers; and he does not condescend to enlighten them. It is well-known, however, that he earnestly favors the Liberal cause in Mexico, and possibly he may hope to lend something by his influence to the fortunes of Juarez.

LAKE BASS IN THE POTOMAC.—There have been caught this season, at the lower fisheries in the Potomac, a few Lake Bass, the first ever found in this section. They were taken back into the river for the purpose of increasing the stock for future use. A few years ago a gentleman procured some Bass from one of the Northern lakes and brought them carefully to Cumberland, Md., where they were put into the river. They have increased rapidly, as we learn a good many have been caught in the vicinity of Washington, but this the first season they have been caught as low down as Aquia Creek.

EDITORIAL HONESTY!—The New York Herald, hearing a few days previous to the veto of the Civil Rights bill, that the National Intelligencer had an editorial in type heartily supporting the measure, published a strong leader declaring that the bill was entirely unconstitutional and objectionable, and that our excellent President would undoubtedly sign it. Three days later, after the veto, the Herald declared that it was the vilest blot of abominations that had ever passed Congress, and said our excellent President had enshrined himself forever in the hearts of his countrymen by the veto.

Miscellaneous Selections.

HEALTH OF JEFFERSON DAVIS.—The following is a copy of the official report, in regard to the health of Mr. Davis, made by his attending physician:

Fortress Monroe, Va., May 9, 1866.
Adjutant General United States Army, Washington, D. C.

SIR: In compliance with directions from the President of the United States to me, given through the office of the Adjutant General, I have made a special examination of State prisoner Jefferson Davis, now in confinement at this post, and report the following to be the result of said examination: He is considerably emaciated, the fatty tissue having almost disappeared, leaving his skin shriveled. His muscles are small, flaccid, and very soft, and he has but little muscular strength. He is quite weak and debilitated. Consequently his gait is becoming uneven and irregular. His digestive organs at present are in comparatively good condition, but become quickly deranged by anything but the most carefully prepared food. With a diet disagreeing with him dyspeptic symptoms promptly make their appearance, soon followed by vertigo, severe facial and cranial neuralgia, an erysipelatous inflammation of the posterior scalp and right side of the nose, which quickly affects the right eye, the only sound one he now has, and extends through the nasal duct into the interior nose.

His nervous system is greatly deranged, being much prostrated and excessively irritable. Slight noises, which are scarcely perceptible to a man in robust health, cause him much pain, the description of the sensation being as of one flayed and having every sentient nerve exposed to the waves of sound. Want of sleep has been a great and almost the principal cause of his nervous excitability. This has been produced by the tramp of the creaking boots of the sentinels on post round the prison room and the relief of the guard at the expiration of every two hours, which almost invariably wakes him. Prisoner Davis states that he has scarcely enjoyed over two hours of sleep unbroken at one time since his confinement. Means have been taken, by placing matting on the floors for the sentinels to walk on, to alleviate this source of disturbance, but with only partial success. His vital condition is low, and he has but little recuperative force. Should he be attacked by any of the severe forms of disease to which the tide-water region of Virginia is subject, I will, with reason, fear for the only way of his recovery. I have furnished to the headquarters of the military district of Fortress Monroe, in compliance with orders from the major general commanding. Respectfully, your obedient servant,
GEORGE E. COOPER,
Surgeon U. S. A.

PAINTER'S PATENT 10,000 IN USE.

These inventions stand approved as the "best" by the most eminent Scientific and Surgical Societies of the world, the inventor having been honored with the award of FIFTY GOLD AND SILVER MEDALS (or "First Prizes") including the Great Medal of the World's Exhibitions in London and New York; also the most Honorary Report of the great Society of Surgeons of Paris, giving his Patents placed above the English and French.

DR. PALMER gives personal attention to the business of his profession, aided by men of the best qualifications and greatest experience. His speciality is in the treatment of the limbs of the Army and Navy. Six Major-Generals and more than a hundred less distinguished military officers have worn the Palmer Limbs on active duty, while still greater numbers of eminent civilians have, by their aid, filled important positions, and effectively concealed their misfortune.

The N. C. Banking Law.

AN ACT TO ENABLE THE BANKS OF THE STATE TO CLOSE THEIR BUSINESS.

WHEREAS, The financial policy of the Federal Government adopted by the national credit, with the heavy taxes imposed by that Government on the Banks of the State, makes it absolutely necessary that said Banks should close their business, and render further continuance of their corporate existence idle and useless to the people of this State.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North-Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of North-Carolina in General Assembly, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 2. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 3. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 4. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 5. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 6. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 7. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 8. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 9. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 10. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 11. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 12. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 13. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 14. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 15. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 16. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 17. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 18. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 19. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 20. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 21. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 22. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 23. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 24. Be it further enacted, That the Banks of this State shall be unwilling to be the business of the Banks chartered by the State, and are desirous to appropriate all the estate and effects of such Bank for the benefit of its creditors, and to close their business in accordance with their charters and franchises in conformity with the subsequent provisions of this act.

Section 25.
